

13 September 2013

Ref: Raphael Lemgruber

To Whom it may concern

Raphael Lemgruber has been an active member of the Raglan coastguard unit from June 2011 until recently when he left due to clashes with his commitments with the St John Ambulance Service and during this period we have become friends.

During his time spent with the unit I have found Raphael to be enthusiastic and a committed team player and he has attended a number of incidents on Coastguard Jet skis (Ecolab 1 and 2) and on board Gallagher Rescue (our 11 metre catamaran) as a part of a larger crew. He has responded in a professional manner in stressful situations as a part of our team.

Raphael is enthusiastic and likeable and fits well in a team environment but is also capable of making decisions on his own based upon the information at hand, he applies himself and does his best to achieve his goals.

We wish Raphael well with his future endeavours.

Yours sincerely

Jason Carter
Coxswain (Ski)